THE ADULTERATION OF TEA.
(Telegraph.)
CONVERENCE OF WHOLESALE DEALERS.
A meeting of members of the wholesale ten trade was held at the premises of Messrs, Harrisons and Crosfield, Great Tower-street, E.C., for the purpose of taking into consideration Mr. Gladstone's reply to the resolution with reference to the examination of ten in bond, which was passed at the recent grocers' meeting, and the adoption of measures in furtherance of that object. The chair was occupied by Mr. Harrison, and the meeting was considered a bighly representative one, as it consisted for the most part of members of large wholesale firms in the trade, together with some representatives of the retail trade.

The Chairman briefly explained the object of restorations of the Pope's temporal power, and the meeting, and said the National Chamber of of the Bourbons in Spain and France. the Adulteration Act, which, they must confess, of public recreation. pressed unjustly alike upon retail dealer, whole-sale dealer, and importer. Mr. Dummett said it was very evident from the letter of Mr. Gladstone that he thought the evil would care itself, and that the dealers should not buy tea which was adulterated ; but his own impression was that if an influential deputation was appointed, and the matter argued with the Premier, his opinions might be altered and protection procured. Mr. Wilson supported the last speaker's views, and said the Premier was a liberal man, and they had no reason to doubt his disposition to help them. (Applause.) Mr. Holborn moved, "That the trade admit the difficulty stated by Mr. Gladstone, and apply to him to have it met, not at the end. at the beginning, by her Majesty's Government and by the sanitary inspector justifying the taking money upon the article."

A long discussion followed, and another proposition was made to the effect that the country be agitated for the repeal of the Act. Mr. Samuel Edwards said he had been communication with a great many tea importers, and they were almost all in favour of taking action with the wholesale and retail dealers at openia the matter Hathan posed a resolution which provided, in effect, tlat certain packages of tea should be selected and analysed by an inspecting officer, and if any were found bad the Government should bave the power of destroying it. Mr. Holborn moved a resolution somewhat similar, declaring that Mr. Gladatone's reply to the memorial of the trade through the Chamber of Trade was neither in harmony nor consistency with the circumstances and modes of operation; and that the meeting felt mocked when told that "her Majesty's advisers see much difficulty" in doing the very thing which her Majesty's representative on the Bench at Liverpool says every little grocer must necessarily do. Mr. Debac, vice-chairman of the Grocers Association, said the very best thing to do was to appoint a deputation, obtain the services of some members of Parliament who were interested in the trade, and endeavour to change-Mr. Gladatone's opinion, which he certainly believeed could be done without much difficulty. He asked whether an Order in Council, if obtained, would stay the prosecutions now proceeding. Mr. Moore, of the Court of Common Council, answered in the negative. The magistrates, having the law before them, could do nothing but enforce it.

Mr. Pigott supported Mr. Debac's proposition, and was of opinion that if the trade themselves impressed upon the Chinese importers that no adulterated tea would be bought, adulteration would cease immedately. The proposition was then put to the meeting in the form of a substantive resolution:-"That a committee be appointed to co-operate with the committe, of the National Chamber of Trade, to organize a deputation to Mr. Glad. stone on the subject.". This was adopted; and the following gentlemen appointed :- Mesers. Dummett, Smith, Harrison, Salmon, Staines, Edwards, Travers, Holborn, Winch, Peck, Hillhouse, Dehac, Ab bis, Moore, Curtis, Hanson, Pepler, Gibbs, and On the motion of Mr. Holborn, a cordial vote of thanks was given to the chairman, and the meeting terminated.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS AT BIRMINGHAM. Judgment has been given by the Birmingham stipendiary magistrate in a series of cases in which several respectable grocers and teadealers of Birmingham were charged with selling tea which had been adulterated. The bearing of the cases has occupied several days, and the proceedings have extended over several weeks. For the prosecution, which was instituted by the Borough Sanitary Committee, three analytical chemists appeared to give evidence; and the defence, which was conducted by a mutual protection association formed by the grocers, also called three chemists to controvert the view of the prosecution. Finally, Dr. Arthur Hill Hassall was called upon to analyzo samples of the tea, and be attended personally to be cross-examined. According to his evidence, the ten which had been sold at 2s. per pound contained quantities of "lye tea," a specially fabricated article. Dr. Hassall also found that the ten contained mineral and other impurities, which existed in such quantities that they must have been introduced by design. In giving judgment, Mr. Kynnersley, the stipendiary, upheld this view, and convicted in five of the cases. On the ground that the adulterations were not such as to be injurious to health, and that the defendants had not been previously summoned, a fine of 20s, only was inflicted; but the defend- In Wool Popline, Merinos, Serges, Velveteens. previously attained, and dispensing with those was margine and vacant spaces which have would amount to more than $200. This might seem bard, but no provision short of it could protect the purchaser. The rotail dealer had his remedy, He must have an understanding with the general merchant that no article shall be considered accepted by him which does not stand the test of analysis, and that anything which proves to be adulterated must be returned. The stipendiary believed the adulteration to have been effected by Chinamen in the preparation of the tea, and not in this country. At present the adulteration was fraudulent only by bulk and weight; but it was possible that noxious substances would be used if the practice were not checked. The cases have excited the greatest interest.

Approved Berkoley, Sopt. 1869.—Gentlemen, I feel it a duty I owe to you to express my gratitude for the great benefit I have derived by taking 'Norton's Camomile Pills.' I applied to your agent, Mr. Bell, Berkeley, for the above named Pills, for wind in the stomach, from which I suffered excruciating pain for a length of time, having tried nearly every remedy prescribed, but without deriving any benefit at all. After taking two bettles of your valuable Pills. I was quite restored to my reports. your valuable Pilis, I was quite restored to my usual state of health. Please give this publicity for the benefit of those who may thus be afflicted.—I am, Sir, yours truly, HENRY ALLEASS .- To the Proprietors of Nonzon's COMOMILE PILLS.

IMPERIAL QUARTO. ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY WITH THE

PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. in Anglo-Cainese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

MOR comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All too new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous obects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in scionce generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle bitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the Chalmers' Vocabularly contains about 16,000 . Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English LACE AND CAMBRIC MANDKERCHIEFS, and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English In the latest colors and styles for the season, words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characother elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely recations and equivalents of liferent words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more han five times us many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference BOOTS and SHOE, in Black, Bronze, and to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in lingland and interested in China it cannob but be invaluable occasionally, It comprises upwards of two-thousand large
